ing. It was now sitting on his garden wall. He was sure it was the same one; it had the same markings around its eyes.

'Shoo!' said Mr Dursley loudly.

The cat didn't move. It just gave him a stern look. Was this normal cat behaviour, Mr Dursley wondered. Trying to pull himself together, he let himself into the house. He was still determined not to mention anything to his wife.

Mrs Dursley had had a nice, normal day. She told him over dinner all about Mrs Next Door's problems with her daughter and how Dudley had learnt a new word ('Shan't!'). Mr Dursley tried to act normally. When Dudley had been put to bed, he went into the living room in time to catch the last report on the evening news.

And finally bird-watchers everywhere have reported that the nation's owls have been behaving very unusually today. Although owls normally hunt at night and are hardly ever seen in daylight, there have been hundreds of sightings of these

A person is skateboarding on a paved road. The person is wearing a dark red, textured long-sleeved shirt, blue jeans, and white sneakers with red and black accents. They are riding a skateboard with a wooden deck and black wheels. The background shows a construction site with cranes and a building under construction, a metal guardrail, and a chain-link fence. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting a sunny day. The word "skateboard" is written in bold black text in the lower-left quadrant of the image.

A pair of tortoiseshell-rimmed glasses with clear lenses is resting on an open, cream-colored notebook. The notebook is open to two blank, lined pages. In the background, a silver laptop is partially visible, showing its keyboard and trackpad. To the right of the notebook, a black pen with a silver tip lies on the surface. The scene is set on a light-colored desk, and the lighting is soft and even.

An aerial photograph of a large-scale center pivot irrigation system in operation. The system consists of a central pivot point with multiple long, parallel arms extending outwards, each supported by a series of smaller wheels. A blue tractor is visible at the central pivot point, and the entire system is surrounded by a vast field of golden wheat. The text "farm machinery" is overlaid in the lower-left quadrant of the image.
